

Ultimate Appalachian Trail Store®

AT THE INTERSECTION OF ASPIRATION AND INSPIRATION

ATC Fleece Jacket. A midweight ringspun fleece jacket made in Philadelphia—in charcoal, with the A.T. diamond on the left chest. Unisex sizes medium to XX.

#351—$60.00 ($54.00)

A.T. Diamond Mug. An iridescent silver, 11-ounce ceramic mug that simply states your favorite Trail. It will shine in your hands, but, because of the metallic glaze, don't warm up your coffee in the microwave!

#858—$15.75 ($14.18)

Mixed-Images Coasters. These 4-inch-square coasters are made in the United States from neoprene-like material—absorbent, dishwasher-safe, and reusable. We feature the ATC logo (#854), the iconic white blaze (#855), the A.T. diamond (#856), and the diamond's wording (#857). Each coaster is $6.25 ($5.63), and a set of all four (#857SET) is $20.25 ($18.23)

ATC Woman's Fleece Vest. A lightweight, light-gray Port Authority fleece vest with the sunrise image from the ATC logo on the left chest. In sizes small through large.

#360—$60.00 ($54.00)

"We are the Guardians of the Appalachian Trail" Mug. This sturdy, duotone, ceramic mug is all ATC. That's what we are, and this is a way to show your support for what we do. It holds up to 17 ounces, with a dark-green interior and handle.

#862—$15.75 ($14.18)

Pewter Monogram. New for 2018, a handcrafted A.T. monogram ornament made from the finest grade of lead-free pewter. Each piece is individually crafted by traditional methods and will not tarnish. Comes with a short, green bow and is about 3"x 2".

#842—$9.95 ($8.96)

ATC members' prices are in parentheses.

OFFICIAL GUIDE SETS & MAPS

The 11 official Appalachian Trail Guides are updated every five to ten years. Each guide, packaged in a resealable plastic bag, includes a pocket-sized book and a set of up to seven sheets of detached, water- and tear-resistant topographic maps with elevation profiles—a package that allows you to choose whether to take a book or maps or both on the Trail. The books have background information, points of interest, and road-access directions, as well as detailed Trail descriptions. The books and four- to nine-color maps assist you on both long- and short-distance hikes of the A.T. and major side trails. Descriptions include water sources and shelter and camping sites. Map sets from guides (except Maine) and some individual maps can be purchased separately; they are listed below by state. Nine guides' Trail descriptions are now unidirectional, with additional natural- and cultural-history background information for each section.

APPALACHIAN TRAIL HIKING

HISTORY

Walking the Appalachian Trail

by Larry Luxenberg

Thru-hiker weaves history and the accounts of several dozen 2,000-milers with the how and the why of walking the A.T.

#231—$21.95 ($19.96)

The Appalachian Trail by Day Hikes:

Tips for the Timid

by Polly Schoning

How to break up the Trail into day hikes for the “nonsuper” hiker, with tips derived from years of experiencing the A.T. this way.

#506—$14.95 ($13.46)

How to Hike the A.T.:

The Nitty-Gritty Details of a Long-Distance Trek

by Michelle Ray

From budget advice through nutrition, culture, weather, resupply—all aimed at making your dream come true. Illustrated.

#222—$18.95 ($17.06)

Get Your Kids Hiking

by Jeff Alt

Loaded with everything you need to know to hit the trail with kids; from gear to simple proven techniques that will make your hike safe and fun. Tailored advice, menus, checklists.

#636—$13.95 ($12.56)

Families on Foot: Urban Hikes to Backyard Treks and National Park Adventures

by Jennifer Pharr Davis and Brew Davis

Practical advice to make hiking more fun for families. A young couple with two young children provides ways to engage kids of all ages with nature.

#610—$17.95 ($16.16)

Edible Wild Foods Playing Card Deck

Descriptions of 52 edible plants, on a plastic belt ring; works for playing a favorite card game, too.

#406—$8.00 ($7.20)

Hiking through History:

Civil War Sites on the Appalachian Trail

by Leanna Joyner

A walk through the substantial slice of the history embedded in the Appalachian Trail corridor—from Underground Railroad sites and W.E.B. Du Bois' birthplace in New England to the Union occupation of present-day Hot Springs, N.C. Each site has a map for a quick hike (25 in all), and most have current and contemporary photographs. Extensively researched on foot and in library by a thru-hiker and now ATC trail-management staff member. A Foreword Reviews 2015 Book of the Year.

#525—$24.95 ($22.46)

PLANNING

Appalachian Trail Thru-Hike Planner

A rip-out-the-pages workbook of checklists, map drops, etc., updated in 2015. Based on experiences of dozens of thru-hikers and observations by the staff and volunteers. Food, equipment, money, weather, shelters, towns—all in fewer than 100 easy-to-read pages.

#203—$11.95 ($10.76)

The Appalachian Trail Hiker

by Frank and Victoria Logue

One of the most popular guides for preparing for a hike of any length on the A.T.; the distilled advice of more than three dozen thru-hikers.

#205—$14.95 ($13.46)

Long-Distance Hiking on the Appalachian Trail for the Older Adventurer

by David Ryan

“Older” being more than 50. In 88 pages, Ryan helps his peers walk through the decisions and research necessary to meet the challenge of the Appalachian Trail. Second edition.

#241—$11.50 ($10.35)

The Appalachian Trail Food Planner

by Lou Adsmund

A.T. hikers generally need 4,000 calories or more a day—and have to carry it all on their backs! Adsmund combines “food drop” planning and schedules, recipes, and clip-out instructions designed to make it happen well. Spiral-bound.

#502—$18.95 ($17.06)

The A.T. Guide (Northbound)

by David Miller

With a horizontal and icon-centric format, this guidebook for A.T. hikes aligns landmarks to elevation profiles in an at-a-glance fashion, rather than tables, with text and 80 town maps to fill out the guidance.

#234-19—$15.95 ($14.36) (January 2019)

The Appalachian Trail Day Hikers' Guide: Downhill to Fine Wine and Accommodations (Georgia, North Carolina & Tennessee)

By Carol and Jim Steiner

#516—$22.95 ($20.66)

The Trail of My Life: The Gene Espy Story
by Gene Espy

The second thru-hiker (1951) of the A.T., still active in his eighties, tells his story—in the context of a 24-year-old rural Georgia boy who always sought and found adventure...and spiritual retreat. Autographed.

#223—$19.95 ($17.96)

HIKING MEMOIRS

Walking with Spring

by Earl V. Shaffer

First thru-hiker lyrically tells the story of his fabled 1948 walk from Georgia to Maine, with his own photographs—a story recounted across the hiking world in 1998 when he did it for the third time, at age 79.

#208—$8.95 ($8.06)

In Beauty May She Walk:

Hiking the Appalachian Trail at 60

by Leslie Mass

This college administrator's well-written account is full of rich detail about the journey and the personal growth that resulted from it, said Library Journal.

#248PB—$21.95 ($19.76)

A Walk for Sunshine

by Jeff Alt

A humorous, inspirational account of a young man who thru-hiked to raise money for those with cerebral palsy, such as his brother; includes a how-to chapter for such hikes. Winner of three "Best Book" awards. 20th-anniversary edition.

#216—$15.95 ($14.36)

As Far as the Eye Can See

by David Brill

The fourth edition of this popular, well-written account of a 1970s thru-hike, with new chapters recounting midlife returns to the Trail.

#212—$19.95 ($17.96)

A Walk in the Woods: Rediscovering

America on the Appalachian Trail

by Bill Bryson

The best-selling book ever about the A.T. (in hardcover and softcover and on audiotape)—a travel writer's humorous view of backpacking, thru-hikers, the countryside, and, once in a while, himself.

#520—$15.99 ($14.39)

Just Passin' Thru: A Vintage Store, the Appalachian Trail, and a Cast of Unforgettable Characters

by Winton Porter

Former owner of Mountain Crossings recounts in engaging, sometimes irreverent, and even poignant prose—eight years of stories of thru-hikers from mile 30 of the northbound Trail.

#233—$14.95 ($13.46)

A Woman's Journey

by Cindy Ross

An early classic of 2,000-miler memoirs, the charcoal illustrations by the author accent the ups and downs of her two section hikes in the late 1970s.

#209—$11.95 ($10.76)

Ellie's Long Walk:

The True Story of Two Friends on the Appalachian Trail

by Pam Flowers

The story of Flowers' southbound thru-hike with Ellie, a rescue dog from Wasilla, Alaska.

#245—$11.99 ($10.79)

AWOL on the Appalachian Trail

by David Miller

A 41-year-old engineer—with a wife and three children at home and "nothing wrong with my life"—quits his job and heads out on a journey of liberation from routine. And, for other reasons.

#213—$14.95 ($13.46)

The Long Start to the Journey (DVD)

Chris Gallaway's 73-minute emotional roller-coaster from his 2013 thru-hike—filmed on the Trail but with off-Trail interviews for perspective.

#514—$21.65 ($19.49)

Becoming Odyssea

Epic Adventures on the Appalachian Trail

by Jennifer Pharr Davis

Setting out alone, Jennifer transitions from overconfident college grad to Trail student, finding kindness, humor, horror, and situations she never imagined. An extraordinarily well-written account.

#218PB—$15.95 ($14.36)

The Pursuit of Endurance: Harnessing the Record-Breaking Power of Strength and Resilience

by Jennifer Pharr Davis

Davis here reveals the secrets and habits behind endurance as she chronicles her incredible accomplishments in the world of endurance hiking, backpacking, and trail running. With a storyteller's ear for fascinating detail and description, Davis takes readers along as she trains, analyzing and trail-testing the theories and methodologies espoused by her star-studded roster of mentors and previous and future record-holders she contacted. NEW

#519—$27.00 ($24.30)

Forest Bathing Retreat: Find Wholeness in the Company of Trees

by Hannah Fries

Recent research finds that time spent in the forest doesn't just feel good but is, in fact, good for you. Inspired by the Japanese concept of forest bathing, poet Hannah Fries invites readers to bask in the company of trees, whether in a city park or a rural nature preserve. NEW

#620—$14.95 ($13.46)

Katahdin Summit Sign Photo Holder. A hand-made miniature (8¾" x 5") of the sign thousands walk miles to touch: a perfect desk-top souvenir for those who have done it and those who aspire. Some use it as a holder for their own or a loved one's summit photograph. Made in Pennsylvania by 2015 thru-hiker Nathan Harrington.

#841—$70.00 ($63.00)

To encourage planning ahead, we offer the Thru-hiker Starter Pack:

APPALACHIAN TRAIL T-SHIRTS

Shirts, unless noted otherwise, are short-sleeved, unisex, loose-fitting, and available in adult sizes medium, large, extralarge, and XX. Remaining stock of previous designs can be found at the online Ultimate A.T. Store (<www.atctrailstore.org>), where you can also see many more photographic views of all shirts. Several are made of a soft "bi-blend" of 52% cotton/48% polyester. All XX shirts are $2.00 ($1.80) more.

Appalachian Trail Topo. Cotton or wicking T, short-sleeved or long, the A.T. marker-on-topo design—a 25-year staple of American Backcountry—is on the back with ATC trademarks on the chest. The cotton (#T005) is in a soft "brick" in small through XX. The wicking version in sage (#T006) is a 100% ring-spun polyester, in small through XX.

#T005—cotton—$26.45 ($23.81)

#T006—wicking—$30.95 ($27.86)

The Blaze. Simple enough for you to explain what it's all about: a single white blaze on the front of a sage cotton shirt, the A.T. diamond below the neck on the back...or a modern wicking version (spun polyester) in deep blue...or a long-sleeved dark heather gray, a blend of 52% cotton/48% polyester. The short-sleeved are available in sizes small through XX; long-sleeved, medium through XX.

#T001—cotton—$26.45 ($23.81)

#T043—wicking—$30.95 ($27.86)

#T086—long-sleeved; blend—$32.95 ($29.66) NEW

A.T. Compass. Compass points encircle a southern Appalachians setting and the quote, "Those who dream the most do the most." An American Backcountry classic now in a "bi-blend" of soft 52% cotton/48% polyester on olive. Available in small, too.

#T085—$26.45 ($23.81)

PINS

A one-inch circular lapel or cap pin—the A.T. monogram ringed by "A footpath for those who seek fellowship with the wilderness."

#926—$5.00 ($4.50)

The official National Park Service symbol for the Appalachian National Scenic Trail.

#940—$5.00 ($4.50)

#950—$7.50 ($6.75)

A.T. Wallets for Men and Women

The A.T. diamond is hot-stamped onto the Lookout (left) leather wallet from the Mule line, and the ATC sunrise icon is embroidered on the front of the nylon Palm for women (right). Both have RFID protection for cards and identity. Ripstop, water-resistant nylon interiors hold 12–20 cards; pockets for cash and receipts. The Lookout (4¼” x 3”) for men is built with 100% vegetable-tanned leather. The Palm (5½” x 4½”) is made of durable nylon and has a zipper pocket for loose change. Both are oxblood-colored, handcrafted in San Diego, and said to be water-resistant.

#827—men—$72.99 ($65.69)

#927—women—$54.00 ($48.60)

Waterproof Telephone Tote. Slide device (iPhone 6, Galaxy, other, with most cases up to 7” x 3½”) into front and firmly zip-seal it closed. Protection from rain, sand, dirt, water, snow—with the A.T. diamond to set it apart.

#836—$29.99 ($26.99)

A.T. Luggage Tag

A sturdy, metal, 3½” x 2¼” luggage tag sporting ATC trademarks on either side. The wire attachment can double as a luggage lock, and the tag has space inside for a business card or other identification.

#907—$7.50 ($6.75)

ATC LuminAID Lantern & Charger. A 6-inch-cube solar lantern collapses to 1” and has an adjustable strap to hang it in a tree or tent, with our logo on the bottom. Runs 3 to 50 hours, depending on the mode. Built-in battery recharges most phones and boosts a tablet. Recharges by USB or solar panel (in 12-14 hours), even in overcast skies.

#936—$45.00 ($40.50)

PATCHES

This round, blue-and-yellow patch with the A.T. monogram is universally recognized. Also available are crescent “rockers” for that patch that designate ATC membership, a complete hike of the Trail, or service as an A.T. maintainer. Special patches—for Conservancy regular members and life members—are sold to those qualified.

Benton MacKaye: Conservationist, Planner, and Creator of the Appalachian Trail

by Larry Anderson
Those who think they know what planner/forester MacKaye had in mind in 1921, when he proposed "an Appalachian trail," and in 1925, when he founded the Appalachian Trail Conference, need to read this only biography of the man who went on to help found The Wilderness Society.
#526PB—$32.00 ($28.80)

Katahdin: A Guide to Baxter State Park & Katahdin

by Baxter State Park Authority
Seventh edition (2012) of 238-page guide, built on Steve Clark's six editions, with small map; includes a classic Myron Avery essay on "the greatest mountain."
#700—$18.95 ($17.06)

Underfoot: A Geologic Guide to the Appalachian Trail

by V. Collins Chew

#518—$12.95 ($11.66)

A Grip on the Mane of Life: An Authorized Biography of Earl V. Shaffer

by David Donaldson and Maurice J. Forrester
Donaldson finished Shaffer's 1998 trek with him, spent years researching his friend's life, and then teamed with former ATC board member and trails activist Forrester to produce this first full look at the thru-hiking pioneer's long life of varied interests.
#512—$16.00 ($14.40)

The Appalachian Trail: An American Legacy

Sam Henegar's new documentary and tribute to A.T. volunteers not only captures today's footpath but also presents rarely seen ATC archival film clips of the Trail's founders, especially digitized for this five-year project, including one of Benton MacKaye's last interviews.
#543—DVD—$26.99 ($24.29)

Grandma Gatewood's Walk

by Ben Montgomery
Emma "Grandma" Gatewood made a media stir in the 1950s during and after her first (of three) solo thru-hike of the A.T., but little was widely known of her beyond the Keds, the laundry bag, and the grit. Reporter Ben Montgomery tells the fuller story.
#246—$17.99 ($16.19)

Trail Magic: The Grandma Gatewood Story (DVD)

Directed by Peter Huston and produced by Eden Valley Enterprises, this well-received 50-minute video tells Gatewood's story beyond that landmark first thru-hike of hers.
#835—$27.00 ($24.30)

Walkin' with the Ghost Whisperers: Lore and Legends of the Appalachian Trail

by J.R. "Model-T" Tate
Places along the Trail that remind us of where real things happened to real people. (Okay, some are supernatural.) This 400-page volume includes scores of stories spanning U.S. history the way the A.T. spans the eastern mountains.
#545—$16.95 ($15.26)

The Appalachian Trail: An Aerial View

by Mark Warner
This 128-page, 11½" x 9½" book is the product of five years of the nature-photographer author's flying above the A.T. in a restored Piper Cub airplane. The bird's-eye views of both the "green tunnel" and the summits are full of surprises!

The Appalachian Trail: Celebrating America's Hiking Trail

by Brian B. King.

Foreword by Bill Bryson.

The history of the Trail, publicly and behind the scenes, from conception through 2011, with more than 300 archival and contemporary photographs of the Trail's majesty and pioneers. This 336-page hardbound volume, about 10 inches square, comes with a folded copy of the strip map of the A.T. in a back pocket. Winner of a National Outdoor Book and other awards.

#567—$50.00 ($45.00)

The Appalachian Trail: Hiking the People's Path

An inspirational photographic tour of the Appalachian Trail through the eyes of photographer Bart Smith, the first person known to walk all eleven of the national scenic trails and now all the historic trails as well. A hardcover in 7" x 5" format, The Appalachian Trail: Hiking the People's Path begins with a foreword by Ron Tipton, ATC's former chief executive, as a prelude to more than 170 spectacular images along the Trail from Springer to Katahdin. Not be confused with the book at left!

#504—$19.95 ($17.96)

America's Great Hiking Trails

by Karen Berger. Photographs by Bart Smith.

Foreword by Bill McKibben.

Triple Crown Berger and photographer Smith, who has hiked them all, portray in words and images the grandeur of the A.T. and all 10 other national scenic trails. Each trail has a map and a chapter of history, highlights, and photographs in this 336-page hardbound volume, about 10 inches square.

#544—$50.00 ($45.00)

Great Hiking Trails of the World: 80 Trails, 75,000 Miles, 38 Countries, 6 Continents

by Karen Berger. Foreword by Bill McKibben.

Celebrating the most important, popular, and diverse hiking trails in the world, this book invites you to take a walking tour through the planet's natural wonders. It groups trails by theme: pilgrimages, historic hikes, mountain hikes, wilderness trails, trails through diverse environments, and long-distance trails—a hiker's dream bucket list! NEW

#555—$50.00 ($45.00)

Pacific Crest Trail:

Exploring America's Wilderness Trail

by Mark Larabee & Barney Scout Mann. Foreword by Cheryl Strayed.

Published with the Pacific Crest Trail Association in October 2016, this hardbound volume explores the 2,650-mile PCT through more than 250 contemporary images, previously unpublished archival photographs, and the insights of two longtime writing devotees of the footpath that Cheryl Strayed brought into the consciousness of the nonhiking world. It, too, has a map tucked into a back pocket and is about 10 inches square.

#712—$50.00 ($45.00)

Civil War Battlefields: Walking the Trails of History

by David Gilbert

Only a few of the battlefields along the Appalachian Trail are among the 30 presented in this stunning volume, written by the designer (and resource for) ATC's book on civil War sites along the Trail (see page 4). Still, this is a book for those who like to do their walking in the footsteps of history. The essays enable the reader to understand each battlefield from a strategic perspective and guide the reader on how best to tour the grounds on foot. With maps, rarely seen archival photos, and stunning contemporary photography.
